

Värmedoktorn is probably known by many in the boating industry with Kjell Apelby at the helm, but unfortunately, Kjell got a chronic illness last fall and then chose to sell his business including stock to me. I have now gone through stock and inventory to be able to help anyone who has a heater, with spare parts and repairs.

I have been repairing diesel and kerosene heaters for many years and also repair gas products of various types.

The workshop and spare parts have been moved to my local in Söderhamn, where you are welcome to drop in for a cup of coffee or send your products that you need help with.

I send spare parts by post or with the cheapest Parcel agent.

Yours

Torbjörn
